legato
strategic consulting

Workday® is our forte

NICE TO MEET YOU

About Us

Legato Strategic Consulting is a women-owned, independent firm specializing in Workday Student.

As an independent firm we offer an alternative to traditional Workday partners. We have the freedom to make clients our priority, not Workday.

Our Approach

We delight in empowering institutions to take control of their technology without dependency on consultants like us.

While Workday Student is a complex tool, we believe any institution can optimize its impact with the right support and training.

Certifications

- Workday® Student Core - Implementer
- Workday® Student Records - Implementer
- Workday® Project Manager - Implementer

Operations Optimization

Equip your institution to optimize new technology.

Training & Documentation

Invest in your team and your tenant through sound training and documentation.

Pre-Implementation & Planning Services

Preparation activities to streamline your implementation.

Implementation Support & Advocacy, Change Management

Drive your implementation to meet your institution's unique needs.

Post-Implementation & Troubleshooting

Leverage technology and equip your team for efficiency and effectiveness.

Quality Assurance

Minimize your institution's exposure to financial risk during your ERP implementation.

Contact with us to schedule a discovery call

legatostrategic.com

info@legatostrategic.com

MESSAGE FROM THE FOUNDER

What We Do and Why

I started my career implementing student information systems, including Workday® Student, as a member of project teams at a higher education institution and later, as an implementation partner.

From these roles, I saw the same avoidable problems show up over and over again. The implementation process and post-production management is wrought with dangers seen and unseen and these dangers swiftly disrupt the school's normal operations. Students can't register, don't have access to financial aid, academic requirements are misconfigured, and therefore students disengage and drop-out rates rise.

I believe higher education institutions serve an important role in society and an important role in students' lives and there are Workday® Student subject matter experts who agree. So, I started Legato Strategic Consulting to bring together a like-minded team that wants to give schools the attention and service they deserve. To make this happen, I hand selected a team based on specific values. We are proud to say that our team is:

1) Committed to the higher education enterprise,
2) Knowledgeable about higher ed operations, including its array of functional areas,
3) Has deep expertise of each phase of the implementation process from Phase Zero to Post-Production.

In this, our team is the perfect coalescence of Workday® technical knowledge and higher ed functional knowledge bridging the gap between the institution's project team and the implementation partner's specializations.

It is our privelege to walk alongside higher education institutions, big or small, towards the best outcomes possible.

Kristina

Kristina Kelpe
Founder / CEO
Legato Strategic Consulting
kkelpe@legatostrategic.com
legatostrategic.com